Russians Sink an American Steamer—Transfer Crew and Hold the Passengers.

WAS ONLY FOLLOWING THE FLEET

Vessel Was Fired Upon by the Russians and Seen to Sink Beneath the Waves—Crew Is Landed This Afternoon.

(Special by Scripps-McRae.)

Tokio, July 25.—The object of the Russian Siberian fleet, which left Vladivostok some days ago, and has since been reported as cruising off the Japanese main coast, is now believed to be the capture of the several liners plying between San Francisco and Seattle and eastern ports. These include the monster vessels of the Pacific Mail Steamship company and the Northern Pacific Railway company. Fishermen who have sighted the Japanese ships during the last few days declare that they are steaming slowly and apparently are economizing in the matter of coal. The danger to ships trading to Japanese ports is a decidedly imminent one and the belief is general here that within a few days news of the capture of several well-known Pacific liners may be expected.

Fleet Is a Fast One
There are few vessels trading with the western continent that are fast enough to keep out of the way of the Russian fleet, all of the cruisers which comprise the latter being better than twenty-knot boats.

As Russia has included food stuffs in its declaration as to what constitutes contraband of war, and as San Francisco, Seattle and Vancouver merchants have been doing a thriving business in the latter class of goods, there is little doubt that most of the steamers plying between the two countries violate the spirit if not the letter of this ruling.

Russian Coal Supply Provided
It is reported here that the Russian fleet has succeeded in catching a quantity of coal at an island in the north Pacific so that even though Vladivostok should be blocked so that they could not return they would still be in a position to replenish their coal bunkers and keep out of the way of any pursuing fleet.

Sunk Vessel
Tokio, July 25.—The Russian Siberian fleet has sunk the Japanese battleship Higonmaru between the Izu peninsula and the adjacent island. The fate of her crew and passengers is as yet unknown.

Antung, July 25.—The position of the Japanese right and center remains unchanged, but a series of brilliant movements are reported from the left accompanied by heavy fighting.

The Chinese, who have wandered into the Japanese lines from the Russian camp, report that Gen. Kurapatkin is personally in command at Liao Yang and that his forces are between 20,000 and 50,000 men. The second in command is in charge of the Russian forces at Hailuogang, which do not exceed 20,000.

The belief is general here that the Russians must evacuate their position and fall back upon Mukden as soon as the Japanese begin their advance in earnest.

Kuroki Moving With 50,000 Men
Shan Hai Kwan, July 25.—A report reached here today from Chinese sources that Kuroki had begun operations against Liao Yang, sending a force estimated at 50,000 in two columns, one from the south and the other from the north.

Although the report is not verified, it can be relied upon to some extent, because it was reported a few days ago that the Japanese had cut the railroad above Liao Yang, that this may have been a part of Kuroki's plan to get possession of the Russian base and thus bring the Manchurian campaign to a speedy termination.

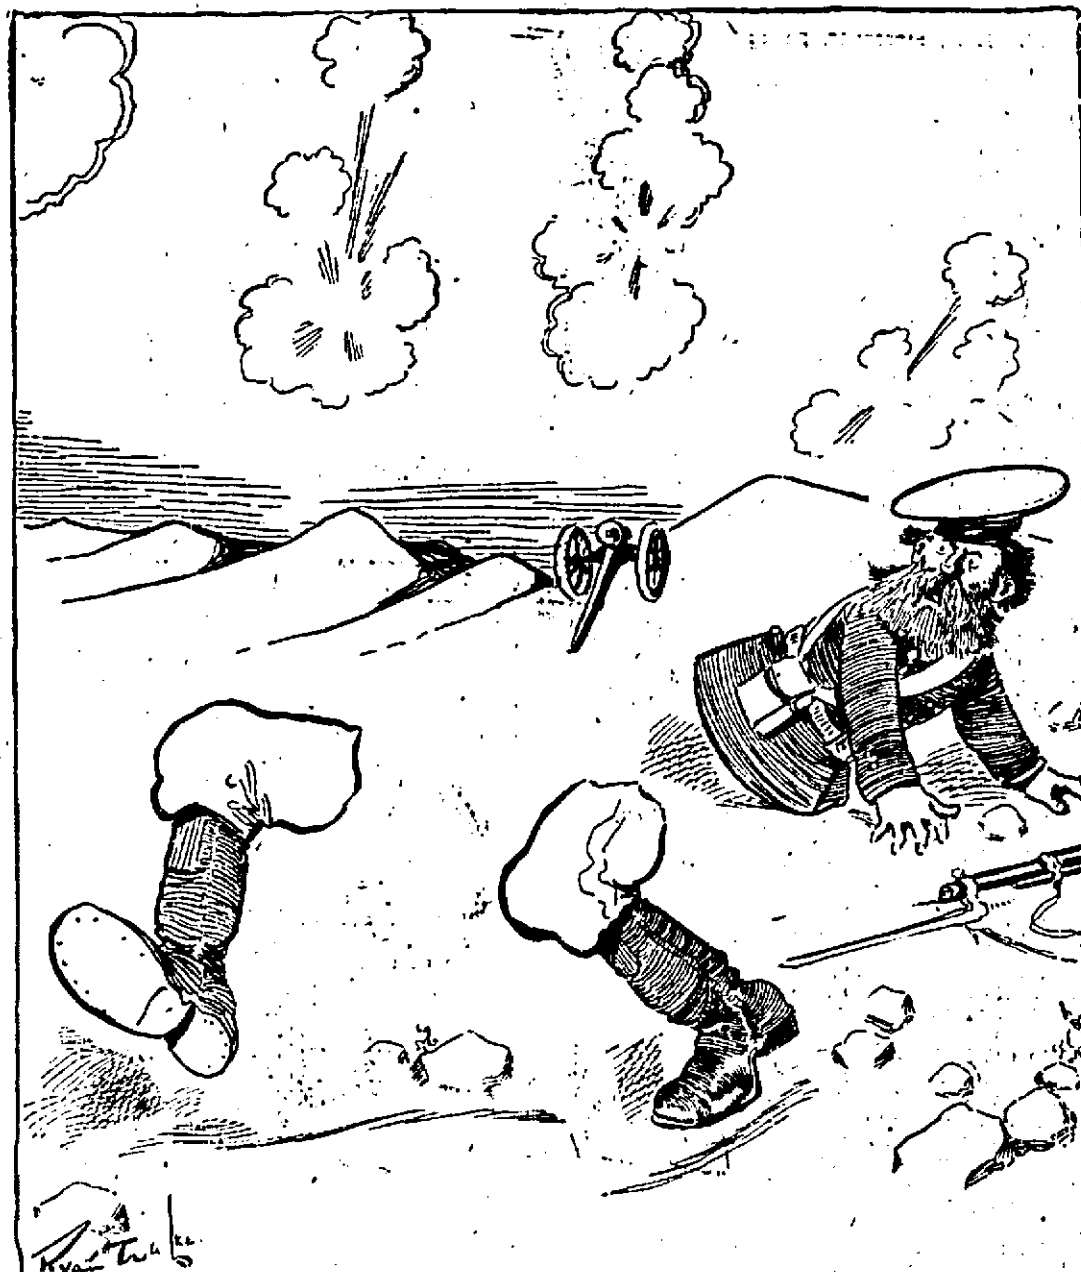

General Clash Expected Soon
It has been expected that a general clash between the two armies would occur soon, near Nal Ceng, but so far the news from that vicinity tells of nothing but skirmishes and outposts fighting without heavy loss on either side. It is believed both armies are still maneuvering for more favorable positions and that in all probability Kuroki's next move will be in the direction of Liao Yang, in which he will certainly encounter determined opposition by the Chinese.

Russians Sink American Boat
Tokio, July 25.—The Russian Vladivostok squadron which has been in Japanese waters for some days past was sighted this morning twenty miles from Kamsugara in the prefecture of Shimoda. The vessels were steaming eastward slowly.

Sunken Steamer's Crew
Suez, July 25.—The British steamer Chinnam arrived with the crew of the British steamer Knight Commander which was sunk by the Russian Vladivostok squadron off Izu. Her European passengers were detained by the Russians and her crew of twenty-one transferred to the Chinnam, which also reports the Russians sunk two Japanese vessels.

Follows the Fleet
Witnesses ashore saw the merchantman following the fleet. Then they saw her fired upon, after which she disappeared.
The Russian warships were last reported at 11 o'clock Sunday morning to the southwest of Cape Iro, Izu province, steering to the west.
Cape Iro is about sixty-five miles southwest of Yokohama, and about fifty miles from the entrance to the bay upon which Yokohama and Tokyo are located.
Bombard Hwang Chin
Chefoo, July 25.—A junk from Dalian reports that Saturday night the Japanese fleet, consisting of twenty warships and twenty torpedo craft, bombarded Hwang Chin Shan for three hours. The forts replied. The details of the engagement have not yet been received.
Evacuate New Chwang
Tien-Tsin, July 25.—In accordance with orders issued by Gen. Kurapatkin, the Russians commenced to evacuate New Chwang Sunday. This morning the Russian railway station is in flames. The Russians are evidently destroying their property previous to evacuation.
Big Battle Rages
Tien-Tsin, July 25.—A big battle, in which the Japanese have gained a decided advantage, has been raging near Tachekiao, according to news from Newchwang, for two days, and the desperate conflict, which appears likely to involve the fall of both Tachekiao and Newchwang, is still being waged. The strong base Kinchow is said to be the real objective point at which the Japanese are aiming by way of Tachekiao.
Victorious in Saturday's engagement, Gen. Oka's forces have driven the Russians back with a loss of over 700 men and are slowly but surely closing in on the two Russian strongholds. They are now within six miles of Newchwang and persons standing on the house-tops of the latter town could plainly see the smoke of battle and masses of troops in conflict.
Drive Out Russians
The main action Saturday in which the Japanese were victorious was fought at Ta Hui Tong, six miles from Newchwang, and the roar of the guns filled the Newchwang residents with terror. Refugees are leaving the town in large numbers.
This engagement was stubbornly fought, the Russians retreating only after the most dogged resistance. By their usual brilliant flanking movements, superior artillery fire, and irresistible bayonet charges the Japanese drove Kourapatkin's troops from their first line of intrenchments with heavy losses.
The battle was resumed at dawn by the Japanese with the same impetuosity, and news is momentarily expected here of a complete defeat for the Russians.
Many Chinese refugees arriving at Newchwang have reported that nine Japanese gunboats from Port Arthur have arrived at Tahtingshan, morning for Green Bay where he will assist in the consecration of the Green Bay diocese of the Catholic church to succeed Archbishop Messmer. Rev. Goebel is a personal friend of Father Fox and received a personal request to be present and take part in the ceremonies which occur tomorrow.

BLAZE ON PROSPECT AVENUE YESTERDAY

Portion of Residence of Mrs. Mary Woods Gutted by Fire—Damaged About $300.

A still alarm from Thoroughgood's box factory followed by a regular summons from box 28 called the fire department out at twenty minutes past twelve yesterday to attend a blaze in the home of Mrs. Mary Woods, 55 Prospect avenue. The origin of the fire is believed to have been spontaneous combustion started by some rags saturated with oil which had been left against the sheathing. The blaze proved a hard one to fight, being in the lath and plaster on the ridge boards, and the sheet iron roofing was also an obstacle. Most of the furniture was rescued without damage and conveyed to the barn. The total loss will amount to about $300.

CASHIER IS MISSING FROM BOSTON HOTEL

Disappearance of Fletcher Barker Results in Suspicion Being Directed Toward Him.

Boston, Mass., July 25.—Alleging that he stole the contents of the Parker house safe, in which were kept cash and jewelry deposited by guests, the police are looking for Fletcher Barker, room cashier, who disappeared a week ago.

Cashier Barker had only just returned from a vacation of two weeks and seemed glad to resume his duties, although he complained to several other employees that his stomach troubled him. He failed to report for duty next day, during the afternoon of which a guest called at the desk to get $350, which he had turned over to the hotel for safe keeping. The cashier on duty was amazed to find the safe "cleaned out."

When a guest deposits jewelry or money he receives a voucher in the shape of half a square piece of cardboard torn crosswise from corner to corner, the cashier keeping one piece and the guest receiving the other. On these triangular vouchers is the amount deposited and the number. Several vouchers issued to guests contained no stipulation as to the value or the amount of the deposit, consequently if these are presented the hotel will be at a loss to know just how much the bearer of the same is entitled to, and will have to depend upon the latter's word of honor. This is said to be the most serious phase of the case, because the alleged irregular vouchers represent an unknown quantity so far as the hotel management is concerned.
Barker's disappearance naturally resulted in suspicion being fastened upon him.

EX-GOVERNOR PECK WOULD ACCEPT IT

Thinks He Would Show the Ingratitude of a Dog, if the Democrats Want Him.

(Special to The Gazette.)
Madison, Wis., July 25.—George W. Peck, former governor of Wisconsin, is a candidate for the democratic nomination for governor for a third term notwithstanding the numerous alleged denials of the fact official and otherwise. Sitting in the corridor of the Park hotel Saturday night, whether he came on a fishing expedition, he said: "If the democrats nominate me for governor for the third time, after having been elected twice, don't you think I would be a dog to show the ingratitude of a dog to refuse it? I know that I have been mentioned as a possible candidate by many of my friends and am appreciative of the honor of those mentions alone but I have not made a single move toward the procurement of the nomination and will not do so. I would work harder for some other fellow than I would for myself. I have received more from my party than I have deserved and am fully aware of it. I would much rather see another nominated and work for his election. I have not even decided to attend the convention and I suppose that a possible should be there with the customary where-withal for entertainment." These words were uttered with all the apparent earmarks of sincerity. The governor is looking well and active and on this point said that he thought that regardless of personal inclinations it was the duty of a citizen and democrat who was in good health and the possession of his faculties to respect the publicly announced wishes of his party in all matters.

COSTS DAN HIGGINS TO ABUSE NEIGHBOR

For the Second Time in Two Weeks He Paid Fine in Court This Morning.

Dan Higgins of Fulton must be a very abusive man and intractable in his abusiveness. About ten days ago he was brought up in court and fined ten dollars for addressing his neighbor, Charles Campbell, in uncomplimentary language. According to the testimony in municipal court this morning Mr. Higgins went right home after paying his fine and indulged in the forbidden luxury again. The court found the defendant guilty once more and he was fined $14 and costs, amounting in all to $18.44.

WOULD NOT LIVE WITH SCABS

Union Men Quit Boarding House and Criticize Landlord.

Appleton, Wis., July 25.—Because nonunion paper-makers were boarding at the Briggs house, Roy Wiedemann, a union lineman of the Wisconsin Telephone company paid his bill and told the landlord he would not live with scabs and he induced other regular boarders to leave the place. The landlord merely said that this is a free country and that he would take to board whomever he pleased.

REGISTERED FOR ROSEBUD DRAWING

Twenty-Five Janesville People Will Stand a Show in the Government Lottery.

George Schaller returned Saturday night from Champaign, Ill., South Dakota, where he registered in the great land lottery. Mr. Schaller spent several days in that locality and made a thorough study of the lay of the land. Around the creeks the best quarter sections have already been taken by the Indians but there is much good land to be parceled out by the government and also a wide area that is good only for grazing purposes. From pure recollection of what he saw Mr. Schaller is able to draw a very interesting map, showing the streams and hills, and the probable town sites as well as indicating the nature and character of the soil. There were few people at Champaign as it is less accessible than the other towns where the registrations took place but there will be a big influx of visitors before Thursday next, when the drawings commence. Janesville ought to have a good show of securing some of the prizes. Among those who are registered are: James, John, and Joe Connors, Ted and Cornelius Stout, James and David Conger, John Howland, Mrs. Howland, Charles Curtis, Charles and Harry Sloan, Martin Curtis, John Carney, George Schaller, William Watt, David Atwood, W. P. Christie, George Heckert, Ben Cary, John Fletcher, Henry J. Casey, W. C. Hart, and Walter Sherman.

PROPER AGE FOR GIRLS TO ENTER MATRIMONY

Gov. Warfield of Maryland Declares That Twenty-four Years Should Elapse Before Marriage.

Baltimore, Md., July 25.—Gov. Edwin Warfield has aroused a stir among femininity by stating that 24 is the proper age at which a girl should marry. He made the statement in addressing the graduates of the Wilmington high school recently, and followed it up with the following interview:

"I asked the age when girls should marry I should say 24. That was the age of Mrs. Warfield when I married. I was 36. I have said to my daughters that I should not give my consent to their marrying until they arrive at that age."

"Marriage for the purpose of settling a daughter in life is, as a rule, a failure and an unhappy one. No parent, and especially no true and loving mother, will wish to push her daughter into matrimony before she is fully matured and fitted for the grave responsibilities of married life. Young girls just out of school are not equipped for the ordinary household duties of wives and for the cares and trials of motherhood. They should, after leaving school, spend some time with their parents, giving their parents the pleasure of their companionship and learning something of the everyday work that will be theirs as wives."

The declaration of the governor has started no end of a controversy, and it is believed he will have difficulty in backing it up.

TEAMSTERS IN A CONFERENCE

Hope to Stop the Possibility of a General Tie-Up at the Stock Yards Today.

COUNCIL REFUSES ITS SANCTION

Drivers in Packing House District Voted To Go Out, But Central Body Holds They Must Abide by the Contract.

(Special by Scripps-McRae.)

Chicago, July 25.—While no general tie-up in the stockyards has been ordered a sympathetic strike of the allied trades was practically inaugurated this morning by the action of the can makers' union and the elevator and millwrights' helpers' union who walked out of their own accord. Meantime the committee headed by President Golden of the teamsters' union and his associates in the allied trades council are in conference with the packers, seeking some method of settlement which will prevent a general sympathetic strike. It is generally believed the prospect of success in this direction is small and a strike is inevitable. No disturbance of any serious character was manifest today.

At St. Paul
St. Paul, Minn., July 25.—There is no sympathetic strike out at St. Paul. Two-thirds of the normal force are working today. There is no disorder.

At St. Louis
St. Louis, Mo., July 25.—The butchers' strike has been endorsed by the central trades and labor council which means the entire membership of the unions walk out when the order is received from Chicago. The east side plants are all in operation today.

Allied Trades Try for Peace
Chicago, July 25.—Refusing to endorse the action of the packing-house teamsters, who voted yesterday, afternoon to join the sympathetic stock yards strike today, the Teamsters' joint council last night ordered the teamsters to remain at work and appointed a committee to intercede with the packers in the hope of ending the industrial conflict.

This new hope for peace came while the allied trades were preparing for a great struggle, precipitated by the calling of the second strike of butcher workmen Friday morning. The packing-house teamsters met yesterday, afternoon, the last of the allied trades to take action. They voted almost unanimously to join the strike, although George F. Golden, their president, had cautioned them that a strike meant the breaking of an agreement with their employers. Before the teamsters could strike, however, their action had to be endorsed by the Chicago Teamsters' joint council and the executive board of the National Brotherhood of Teamsters.

Joint Council Meets
The joint council met last night at 83 Madison street. Golden, leader of the packing teamsters and president of the joint council, was in the chair. Michael Donnelly, president of the butcher workmen and leader of the general movement against the packers, appeared at the door and asked the privilege of the floor. With him were Vice President Stirling of the butcher workmen, John Floorsch and Nicholas Gler of the Packing Trades' council and Philip Murphy of the butchers. They were invited to address the meeting.

President Donnelly explained to the council the cause of the original strike and thanked the representatives of the teamsters for their efforts in bringing about the first settlement. Then he declared that the packers had flagrantly violated the peace pact and that the butchers had refused to remain at work, making it necessary for him to order a second strike in order to preserve the unity of the organization.

Donnelly Asks Support
Donnelly then asked the teamsters for their support in the sympathetic strike which had been ordered by allied trades. He told them, however, that if they could not, under their laws, see their way clear to join the sympathetic movement, thereby breaking an agreement with the packers, any action they might take would help the situation would be appreciated. None of the other representatives of the strikers addressed the council.

After the butchers' representatives retired the teamsters debated the situation. They scored the butchers for "delaying consultation" with the packing teamsters until after the original strike was called and unanimously determined that it would be dangerous to the labor movement in general to endorse the sympathetic strike without first consulting with the packers.

Teamsters to Intercede
President Golden criticized the strike leaders for ignoring his organization and suggested the plan of action which was finally adopted. On a motion from the floor it was unanimously agreed that a committee of eight be appointed to meet the packers to-day to propose that negotiations be opened with the teamsters as intercessors for the purpose of bringing about a settlement of the renewed and extended strike.

PAPAL SECRETARY OFFERS TO RESIGN HIS POSITION

Merry Del Val Will Leave the Pope's Cabinet—He Hopes Thus To End the French Trouble.

(Special by Scripps-McRae.)

Rome, July 25.—The Tribune says it is said that Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, has tendered his resignation, owing to the hostility of the cardinals, which indicates that they accuse him of rendering impossible an accord with France, and that the pope has refused to accept the resignation.

If the concordat with France is abandoned, the secretary, who is a Spaniard, would naturally be held more or less responsible because of his official position.

Terms of the Concordat
The concordat, over which there is so much controversy, is defined as a treaty state touching the conservation and promotion of religion in that state. By the concordat of 1817 the union of church and state in France was virtually established. The king nominated the bishops and the pope confirmed the choice within six months. The relations remained cordial under this until the later years of the reign of Louis XIV., when serious troubles arose, lasting for eleven years, during which the pope and king were at odds. The latter then gave in.

All Church Property Sequestered
During the revolution in the last decades of the eighteenth century the religious fabric of France was wiped out of existence and the churches, colleges, seminaries, convents and monasteries to the value of four billions of francs ($500,000,000) were sequestered by the government and their wealth and endowments converted into national property.

Napoleon followed, and seeing the personal advantage that would result by the restoration of the organized church of which France had been deprived for two decades, he negotiated the formation of a commission whose sessions were held under his auspices in Paris.

Framing of the Concordat
Cardinal Consalvi, the pope's secretary of state, met with Napoleon in framing the concordat. The latter agreed, in order not to disturb the titles acquired by outside parties to the sequestered church property, to pay yearly about $7,000,000 in salaries from public funds in lieu of returning the property.

If the concordat is abrogated all seminaries, chapels, religious establishments, convents, hospitals, asylums, etc., which belong either to religious congregations or to different societies that have been enabled by contributions of pious people to erect them, will be confiscated by the government.

Wealth in Gold and Silver
In the treasury of most of the old churches and religious establishments are many valuable vestments and a wealth of gold and silver chalices, ciboriums, monstrances, and other articles of altar furniture and sacred vessels used in the ceremonies of the church. These, according to the statement made by an ecclesiastic, are considered as of the church endowment and would be taken by the government when property is sequestered.

About ten days ago he was brought up in court and fined ten dollars for addressing his neighbor, Charles Campbell, in uncomplimentary language. According to the testimony in municipal court this morning Mr. Higgins went right home after paying his fine and indulged in the forbidden luxury again. The court found the defendant guilty once more and he was fined $10 and costs, amounting in all to $18.40.

WOULD NOT LIVE WITH SCABS

Union Men Quit Boarding House and Criticize Landlord.

Appleton, Wis., July 25.—Because nonunion paper-makers were boarding at the Briggs house, Roy Wiedemann, a union lineman of the Wisconsin Telephone company paid his bill and told the landlord he would not live with scabs and he induced other regular boarders to leave the place. The landlord merely said that this is a free country and that he would take to board whomsoever he pleased.

REGISTERED FOR ROSEBUD DRAWING

Twenty-five Janesville People Will Stand a Show in the Government Lottery.

George Schaller returned Saturday night from Chamberlain, South Dakota, where he registered in the great land lottery. Mr. Schaller spent several days in that locality and made a thorough study of the lay of the land. Around the creeks the best quarter sections have already been taken by the Indians but there is much good land to be parceled out by the government and also a wide area that is good only for grazing purposes. From pure recollection of what he saw Mr. Schaller is able to draw a very interesting map, showing the streams and hills, and the probable town sites as well as indicating the nature and character of the soil. There were few people at Chamberlain as it is less accessible than the other towns where the registrations took place but there will be a big influx of visitors before Thursday next, when the drawings commence. Janesville ought to have a good show of securing some of the prizes. Among those who are registered are: James, John, and Joe Connors, Ted and Cornelius Stout, James and David Conger, John Howland, Mrs. Howland, Charles Curtis, Charles and Harry Sloan, Martin Curtis, John Carney, George Schaller, William Watt, David Atwood, W. P. Christie, George Hockett, Ben Cary, John Fletcher, Henry J. Casey, W. C. Hart, and Walter Sherman.

JOINT COUNCIL MEETS

The joint council met last night at

Chicago, July 25.—Refusing to endorse the action of the packing-house teamsters, who voted yesterday, afternoon to join the sympathetic stock yards strike to-day, the Teamsters' joint council last night ordered the teamsters to remain at work and appointed a committee to intercede with the packers in the hope of ending the industrial conflict.

This new hope for peace came while the allied trades were preparing for a great struggle, precipitated by the calling of the second strike of butcher workers Friday morning. The packing-house teamsters met yesterday afternoon, the last of the allied trades to take action. They voted almost unanimously to join the strike, although George F. Golden, their president, had cautioned them that a strike meant the breaking of an agreement with their employers. Before the teamsters could strike, however, their action had to be endorsed by the Chicago Teamsters' joint council and the executive board of the National Brotherhood of Teamsters.

TEAMSTERS IN A CONFERENCE

Hope to Stop the Possibility of a General Tie-Up at the Stock Yards Today.

COUNCIL REFUSES ITS SANCTION

Drivers in Packing House District Voted To Go Out, But Central Body Holds They Must Abide by the Contract.

[Special by Scripps-McLain.]
Chicago, July 25.—While no general tie-up in the stockyards has been ordered a sympathetic strike of the allied trades was practically inaugurated this morning by the action of the can makers' union and the elevator and millwrights' helpers' union who walked out of their own accord. Meantime the committee headed by President Golden of the teamsters' union and his associates in the allied trades council are in conference with the packers, seeking some method of settlement which will prevent a general sympathetic strike. It is generally believed the prospect of success in this direction is small and a strike is inevitable. No disturbance of any serious character was manifest today.
At St. Paul.
St. Paul, Minn., July 25.—There is no sympathetic strike out at St. Paul. Two-thirds of the normal force are working today. There is no disorder.
At St. Louis.
St. Louis, Mo., July 25.—The butchers' strike has been endorsed by the central trades and labor council which means the entire membership of the unions walk out when the order is received from Chicago. The east side plants are all in operation today.

PAPAL SECRETARY OFFERS TO RESIGN HIS POSITION

Merry Del Val Will Leave the Pope's Cabinet—He Hopes Thus To End the French Trouble.

[Special by Scripps-McLain.]
Rome, July 25.—The Tribune says it is said that Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, has tendered his resignation, owing to the hostility of the cardinals, which indicates that they accuse him of rendering impossible an accord with France, and that the pope has refused to accept the resignation.
If the concordat with France is abrogated the secretary, who is a Spaniard, would naturally be held more or less responsible because of his official position.
Terms of the Concordat.
The concordat, over which there is so much controversy, is defined as a treaty between the pope and a secular state touching the conservation and promotion of religion in that state. By the concordat of 1615 the union of church and state in France was virtually established. The king nominated the bishops and the pope confirmed the choice within six months. The relations remained cordial under this until the later years of the reign of Louis XIV., when serious troubles arose, lasting for eleven years, during which the pope and king were at odds. The latter then gave in.
All Church Property Sequestered.
During the revolution in the last decades of the eighteenth century the religious fabric of France was wiped out of existence and the churches, colleges, seminaries, convents and monasteries to the value of four billions of francs ($800,000,000) were sequestered by the government and their wealth and endowments converted into national property.

Napoleon followed, and seeing the personal advantage that would result by the restoration of the organized church of which France had been deprived for two decades, he negotiated the formation of a commission whose sessions were held under his auspices in Paris.
Framing of the Concordat.
Cardinal Consalvi, the pope's secretary of state, acted with Napoleon in framing the concordat. The latter agreed, in order not to disturb the titles acquired by outside parties to the sequestered church property, to pay yearly about $7,000,000 in salaries from public funds in lieu of returning the property.
If the concordat is abrogated all seminaries, chapels, religious establishments, convents, hospitals, asylums, etc., which belong either to religious congregations or to different societies that have been enabled by contributions of pious people to erect them, will be confiscated by the government.
Wealth in Gold and Silver.
In the treasury of most of the old churches and religious establishments are many valuable vestments and a wealth of gold and silver chalices, ciboriums, monstrances, and other articles of altar furniture and sacred vessels used in the ceremonies of the church. These, according to the statement made by an ecclesiastic, are considered as of the church endowment and would be taken by the government when property is sequestered.

VERDICT OF THE PARTY

From the report of the Committee on Credentials to the REPUBLICAN NATIONAL CONVENTION, which was unanimously adopted by that convention, June 25, 1904.

Your committee report it to be their final judgment that the convention which elected said John C. Spooner, J. V. Quinnes, J. W. Babcock and Emil Bensch as delegates at large, and their alternates at large, to this convention from the state of Wisconsin WAS THE REGULAR CONVENTION OF THE REPUBLICAN PARTY IN WISCONSIN, and that the delegates elected by it are the regular elected delegates at large from the state of Wisconsin to the republican convention, and, as such, are entitled to seats in this convention.

THE CONDITIONS.
Chicago, as the center of the labor world, is always stirring up some sort of a labor disturbance. As long as it does not affect the country at large it is all right, but when the whole country is forced to suffer then the whole country grumbles. Today the meat strike has stirred the country from end to end. Janesville is perhaps more fortunate than any of the other small cities adjacent to Chicago in that it kills most of its own meat and the butchers have not taken advantage of the opportunity to raise prices. In the effects east the situation is becoming something awful. The city of New York is almost bereft of fresh meat and the small cities along the Hudson, whose meat stock comes directly from Chicago, is gone. Now comes the news that the textile workers in Massachusetts will strike because the manufacturers have refused to rescind the order for a general reduction of wages. At Madison the other day a manufacturing concern called its men together and told them this being presidential year business was slack and they would have to either cut the salary list or close the factory. The men accepted the cut. Business men are not going to run their factories at a loss, but the majority of them are in sympathy with their workmen and would rather reduce their wages than turn them off entirely. Strikes always injure the honest laborer. It does not give any material benefit to any community and class of people except walking delegates and men who live by their wits off the toil of others. It is to be hoped the Chicago strike will be settled some way before the affair has gone too far.

PROFESSIONALISM.
College managers of athletic teams are busy this summer picking out available material for the coming athletic teams that will represent their college or university. In some cases a monetary inducement is held out for certain prominent athletes to go to a certain college. This is the wrong idea of winning a pennant. This is the underhand manner of teaching honesty to the students who attend that certain university. If athletics have descended to the level of professionalism then let college athletics end. Hardly a day passes but comes some exposure of this or that prominent athlete who had his way paid through some institution of learning that he might play football, row on the crew, play baseball or be a professional runner. It is the wrong idea and the sooner the managers of athletic teams discover it the better it will be for athletics the country over.

The day of the dog is near at hand. If the truth be known that the dog catcher is out in force.

THE CROPS.
Reports from all parts of the country point to a prosperous year for the farmers. This means a prosperous year for the merchants, the bankers, the professional men, in fact every walk of life. America is commercial in a way but the great backbone to America's greatness are her farmers. Wisconsin is not as much a manufacturing state as it is a crop raising state. It has long been noted for its tobacco and dairy products. Now comes the sugar beet and other means for farmers to make money while the July sun shines. The corn crop, while late, promises well and this means better food for the stock and better meat for the tables. Prosperity follows good crops. High prices can only be obtained when times are good, no matter how much the supply.

THAT SILENCE.
The whole democratic party is disturbed. To outsiders they do not tell the sad story but they can not reconcile themselves to the strange silence which is attributed to Mr. Parker, their presidential nominee. They are mistaken in their former allegiance to Mr. Bryan and his doctrine, but they do not see how they have stepped very far from the narrow path he laid down for them by nominating Mr. Davis as Mr. Parker's side partner. A golden head and a silver tail is the way the democratic donkey now stands and the question is which way is he going to kick.

Wisconsin politicians are watching for the discord that will spring up when the dummies get together. Then the wonder is, will they find enough men who have not voted at republican causes to elect delegates to a democratic state convention?

The word like comes to America from the Philippines and pike from St. Louis. Hence, like for pike is a purely American work coined expressly for the golf links.

The democrats will officially announce to Mr. Parker he has been nominated as the democratic candidate for president on August 10. Poor Parker.

In all the announcements of the great like tomorrow night there is no reference to any Scotchman being present and yet golf is a Scotch game.

Ice men do not like this weather, neither do the ice cream manufacturers or the soda water fountain owners. So Mr. Weather man, please change it.

England has boiled over with rage at the idea of Russia daring to stop an English ship on the high or low seas. And that is all.

Germany jumps to the front with a decidedly indignant protest against Russia and demands that German ships be immune from capture, no matter what they have on board.

The French monkey sits by and grins and watches Russia swallow up both the protest of Germany and the wrath of England.

What is there about the Maine that causes the government to forbid its being raised down in Havana harbor?

There is talk of increasing the police force at the council meeting this evening. Something ought to be done and done quickly.

PRESS COMMENT

Milwaukee Sentinel: The New York World thinks "It looks like a gamshoe campaign." Still, Mr. Bryan's program will make quite a clatter when he gets fairly started in "supporting" Judge Parker.

Hartford Courant: People who studied geography some years ago are asking where the "he" in Thibot has gone to. It seems to have eloped with the apostrophe in L'Hassa.

Cincinnati Commercial Tribune: Mr. Hill's enthusiasm for Mr. Roosevelt would be more enthusiastic if Mr. Roosevelt would only assure Mr. Hill that Mr. Hill might disregard that securities decision without interference on the part of Mr. Roosevelt.

Chicago Chronicle: Japanese custom requires an impudent and unpopular official to commit harakiri. If that custom were to be introduced here the coroner would be the hardest worked man in the community.

Racine News: The fire losses in this country for the first six months of the year foot up to $172,531,450. These losses are of course alleviated by insurance.

Chicago Record-Herald: Two Chinese editors have been sent to jail for advocating reform. The dowager empress wanted at first to have them beheaded but decided, at last, that it would be more satisfactory to starve them. China seems to need a Lincoln Steffens.

SUCCESS GAINED

As the Result of Liberal, Forceful, Newspaper Advertising.

L. K. Liggett, Originator of the Rexall Remedy Plan, Tells How Publicity Brought Results.

The story of the success of the United Drug Co. illustrates the wonderful possibilities of brains, energy and newspaper advertising. The company has been in existence less than a year and a half, and yet it is today recognized as one of the leading manufacturing drug concerns of the country, and its products, all bearing the name of "Rexall," are known from one end of the land to the other.

The Rexall plan is unique in many ways. The organization is composed of the leading retail druggists of the country. Only one druggist in each city is allowed to become a stockholder—the most reliable and enterprising—and he has exclusive sale in his community of all Rexall goods.

Not a dollar's worth of Rexall remedies is sold to jobbers. From the laboratory direct to consumer is this new company's policy. Thus the purchaser knows he is receiving absolutely fresh goods of full strength. He knows, too, that he obtains these remedies at the actual cost price with but one small profit added—that of the local stockholder.

One hundred and fifty Rexall remedies are now on the market and more are in course of preparation. There will be "one for each human ailment," and the specialists at the Rexall laboratories estimate that there are about three hundred ills.

LOUIS K. LIGGETT

The Rexall plan originated with Louis K. Liggett, chief stockholder and general manager of the company, and formerly general manager of the Vinol company, in which capacity he made a remarkable record.

In selling Vinol from Maine to California Mr. Liggett built up a wide acquaintance with leading druggists all over the country, thus when the "Rexall" plan occurred to him he found hundreds ready to join the enterprise.

Within two months from the time he first conceived the idea Mr. Liggett had formed the largest and strongest drug organization in the United States—the United Drug Co.

Early in 1903 the laboratories of the new company were opened on Lein Street, Boston, Mass. A big five-story building was purchased, but in less than a year's time the company was compelled to look for more room. Additional buildings in the neighborhood were secured, so that now over 300 people, 90 per cent of whom are skilled, are employed to make Rexall remedies. Besides this, arrangements are now being made for the erection of an enormous new laboratory by the side of the present home of the company, where 500 will be employed.

One of the strongest arguments that can be advanced in proof of the perfection of Rexall remedies is the fact that each is sold under a specific guarantee to refund the purchase price if the remedy does not prove entirely satisfactory—if it does not cure the ailment for which it was sold. To-day this Rexall guarantee is known far and wide and its undoubted genuineness has added greatly to the popularity of Rexall remedies.

To say that Mr. Liggett is "a firm believer in newspaper advertising" would be equivalent to saying that he is a "firm believer in food or clothing or any other essential."

"Newspaper advertising," he said recently, "is as essential to the manufacturer of a proprietary article as is food to the human body, but it must be used intelligently."

"Look at what we have done with one of our new remedies, Rexall Muc-Tone, and you will have an idea of the possibilities of newspaper advertising when it is judiciously handled."

"Within a week after we finally perfected this remedy—September 30, 1903—our stockholders had given us orders for $200,000 worth."

"This was only half the battle. The other half was to make the people familiar with this new remedy—to persuade them to buy the great quantities of Muc-Tone our stockholders had ordered."

"So we started on a campaign of newspaper advertising, running two or three ads every week in the largest cities, and gradually taking in the smaller cities and towns."

"The results have been more than satisfactory—they have been astonishing. Muc-Tone in a few months has become one of the leading catarrh cures of the country."

"The same thing is true of Rexall '33 Hair Tonic. From the very first ad that we ran, its success was assured."

EVERY MAN HIS OWN GAS MAN

The "Raff" Light means to you Absolute Safety, Explosion Impossible; Light Clear as Day and Less Eye Troubles; Cost--Less Than 1-2 That of Gas or Electricity.

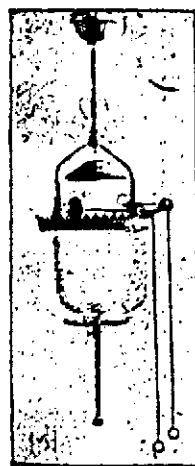

SOME FACTS FOR JANESVILLE PEOPLE

We do not care what you are using for light, we can increase it with less money and perfect safety. The light is far superior to any other, being softer, whiter, more diffusive and absolutely steady, and is more than equal of any arc light in brilliancy and light giving power, in fact it is the best light known to science today. If you will send us the dimensions of your store, office or dwelling, and the number and style of lights needed, we will send you prices of our system installed in your place and warranted for one year.

The plant may be placed anywhere desired out of doors, in the coal house or in any part of the house, and the fuel carried to the stove or lamps through the hollow wire, thus making a gasoline stove just as safe as a coal stove. We heat coffee urns in restaurants, water in barber shops, etc. If you are fully satisfied with the light you are using and with what they are costing you, you are not the party with whom we wish to talk, but, if you are not satisfied and will drop us a card we will show you how you can increase your light many times and decrease the cost.

Our No. 6 Lamp

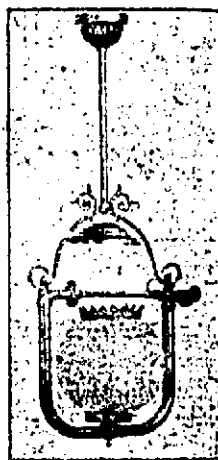

a cut of which we show, has been made expressly from our own designing and is fitted with a positive and easy cut-off. They produce a 1000 candle power light and can be run from 22 to 24 hours with one gallon of gasoline. This lamp is adapted for stores, halls, etc., when a very strong light is wanted. It is without a doubt the strongest light on the market and gives entire satisfaction wherever it has been placed.

stronger or weaker as desired. No home is complete without being lighted with our plant and No. 8 lamps.

Our No. 8 Lamp

is a thing of beauty and has been made expressly from our own designing and is also supplied with the same easy positive cut-off as our number 6. This lamp is made for stores, churches, halls and residences where a more ornamental lamp is wanted. It produces about 800 candle candle power light and will burn from 24 to 30 hours with one gallon of gasoline. It is supplied with two chains so it can be turned up or down from the floor with perfect ease, making the light

To Whom It May Concern:

We have lighted our store with the Raff Lighting System for the last five months and find it perfect, satisfactory and very much cheaper than gas, electricity or any thing else we know of. We have no hesitancy in recommending it to anybody wanting a good and cheap lighting system. Temple of Economy Dept. Store, J. E. Stanton.

Boone, Iowa, April 4, 1904.

To the public and those who are interested in good lights I would say that about one year ago we bought of Mr. Raff one of his lighting plants and two lamps. We have used the same ever since that time and have the same globes and mantles now on the lamps that Mr. Raff put on them when he installed the plant and have had no trouble whatever with the lamps. I would also state that from May 1, 1903, to January 1, 1904, our bill for fuel only cost us $1.72 per month, this includes the running of a gasoline stove burner attached to the said plant, also used gasoline for Hot Chilla running the burner about ten hours per day for about three months.

It affords me great pleasure to have an opportunity of saying a word in regard to the Raff Air Pressure System of lighting. I have used several systems of gasoline lighting plants, but have been obliged to abandon them all on account of the expense attached to running them. I installed the Raff System in my store last November, and must say it has proved more than satisfactory in every respect, producing more light for less money than any system I have ever seen. It has usually cost me from $12 to $25 per month to light my store, I am now getting more light with the Raff System at a cost of from $5 to $6 per month. Anyone contemplating making any changes will certainly make no mistake in putting in the Raff System.

Yours respectfully,
